

DNS scientific meeting

Thursday March 1st, 2018

Aarhus University Hospital,
Tage-Hansens Gade 2 (Amtssygehuset)
Auditorium 1, building 4a (next to the canteen)
DK-8000 Aarhus C

First session, Home dialysis

12:00 - 12:15

Arrival and Sandwich

12:15 - 12:20

Welcome

Henrik Birn professor, Dept of Nephrology, Århus University Hospital

12:20 - 13:05

Home dialysis – why should we do it and how do we get there?

Dr. Sandip Mitra, Consultant nephrologist, MRI and Honorary Lecturer, University of Manchester.

13:05 - 13:35

PD first or home hemo? Two (equally) great options?

Dr. James Heaf, Consultant nephrologist, Zealand University Hospital, Roskilde, and Dr. Rizwan Ahmed Butt, Consultant nephrologist, Herlev Hospital, Copenhagen.

13:35 - 13:55 - Coffee

13:55 - 14:15

When home dialysis becomes a hospital home order.

Johan V. Povlsen, Consultant nephrologist, Aarhus University Hospital, Aarhus.

14:15 - 14:55

Wearable dialysis devices – are we close?

Dr. Andrew Davenport, Consultant nephrologist, UCL Centre for Nephrology, Royal Free Hospital, London.

14:55 - 15:15 - Short break

Second session, Maximal medicinsk uræmi behandling og palliation - DNS og FS-nefro

15:15 – 15:25

Welcome

Inge Eidemak overlæge, PhD. Palliativ enhed, Rigshospitalet

15:25 – 16:25 (incl. questions)

Conservative Kidney Management – experiences and perspectives.

Dr Emma Murphy PhD, MSc, RN, University Hospital Southampton NHS Foundation trust and The University of Southampton, UK

16:25 – 17:10 (incl. spørgsmål)

Det landsdækkende palliative udvalg 2012-2017

Rapporten: Palliativ indsats I nefrologien

Inge Eidemak, overlæge, PhD. Palliativ enhed, Rigshospitalet

17:10 – 17:15

Round up and final remarks

Jens Kristian Madsen, overlæge, PhD, Dept of Nephrology, Århus University Hospital